Please join us for a free lecture and book signing by Dr. J.D. "Jill" Zahniser, the author of "Alice Paul, Claiming Power." She will discuss the life of the suffragist leader and women's rights pioneer. The Oxford University Press says her newly-released biography..."of Paul's early years and suffrage leadership offers fresh insight into her private persona and public image."

Zahniser will be signing copies of her book which will be available for sale at the event for $35. Proceeds will benefit the construction of the Turning Point Suffragist Memorial.

To pre-order a copy of "Alice Paul, Claiming Power" and RSVP, please email turningpoint@suffragistmemorial.org.

Please invite your friends and neighbors to this free event.

Thank you for your support in raising funds to build a national suffragist memorial.

Directions: Armstrong Street is between Chain Bridge Rd. (Rt.# 123) and University Dr. Enter through the Atrium at the rear of the building facing George Mason Blvd. It is an accessible building with ample parking.

Turning Point Suffragist Memorial

Efforts are underway to build a national suffragist memorial at the Occoquan Regional Park in Lorton, Va., that will honor the suffragists whose harsh imprisonment at the Occoquan Workhouse in 1917 served as a "turning point" in winning the right to vote for American women.
