OCTOBER 2024

Local Slugger Places Third in Little League World Series Home Run Derby

Jack Shaw, a Fairfax City resident and St. Leo's student, placed third in the 2024 T-Mobile Little League Home Run Derby, which was held Aug. 22 in Williamsport, Pa., and aired on ESPN2.

Shaw's road to Williamsport began by winning the Fairfax Little League Home Run Derby. He then won the East Regional Home Run Derby at Kauffman Stadium, home of the Kansas City Royals. His win at regionals led to a showdown on the national stage against the top four finishers from the East and the West.

Shaw said participating in the Little League World Series Home Run Derby was an awesome experience he'll never forget – and really fun. "One of my favorite parts was hitting in a major league park and winning the East finals at the Kansas City Royals stadium," said Shaw. "It was like being an MLB player! They played my walk-up music, announced my name in the stadium, and put my picture up on the big scoreboard. Really cool!"

Shaw plays travel baseball for the Stars and will attend Fairfax High School in a few years. Congratulations, Jack!

Dereck Scott

INTRODUCING THE CITY OF FAIRFAX BAND'S NEW DIRECTOR

The City of Fairfax Band Association's new director, Dr. Dereck Scott, is a conductor, arranger, and trumpet player. He succeeds Robert Pouliot, who retired after 29 years. Scott began his new role in July, and he will conduct his first City of Fairfax Band concert, The Divine Adventure, on Oct. 26, when the nationally acclaimed ensemble launches its 2024-25 season at Fairfax High School.

"The City of Fairfax Band is the group I kept hearing about. This is a group I wanted to be a part of. I am extremely excited," said Scott. "It's a very good group. I'm confident they will be able to play anything I put in front of them."

His leadership from the podium has been described as transformative and of the highest artistic merit.

DMV Select and Court Office Closures, Oct. 14

On Oct. 14, the General District Court and the DMV Select will be closed in observance of Columbus Day & Yorktown Victory Day. All city government offices will be open regular hours.

Drug Take Back Day, Oct. 26

Bring unwanted or expired prescription and over-the-counter drugs to the City of Fairfax Police Department from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Oct. 26. Pills, ointments, and liquids in sealed containers are accepted. (No needles, syringes, or Epi-Pens.) Drop-off is anonymous; no identification or prescription information is required. Can't make this date? Check with your pharmacy for safe disposal options. Info: fairfaxva.gov/police, 703-293-7122

Don't Bag It! Curbside Leaf Collection, Nov. 4

Curbside leaf collection will be provided from Nov. 4 through Jan. 3, 2025, in neighborhoods that receive city refuse collection service. Please rake leaves loose to the curb; they are transported to a facility that processes them into 100% natural, organic mulch. Bagged leaves are not collected during this time.

Leaf piles may include light yard debris in leaf piles (grass clippings and weeds) — but not stones, branches, dirt, and other objects that may injure workers and damage equipment. Info: fairfaxva.gov (search "Leaf"), 703-385-LEAF

Raking leaves reduces the amount of phosphorous and nitrogen that enters local waterways and keeps the oxygen in water at a healthier level for aquatic life.

However, if you don't get all of your leaves, don't despair. Leaving leaves protects and maintains biodiversity. Leaf fall reintroduces vital nutrients back into the soil, creating optimal growing conditions for the yard or gardens the following year. Fallen leaves also provide vital food, shelter, and nesting material for wildlife, such as overwintering caterpillars that emerge as butterflies and moths the following year.

Winter Quarter Limit Charged to City Wastewater Bills

Fairfax City wastewater customers are billed a winter quarter limit, which is based on winter quarter consumption multiplied by a factor of 1.3 or actual water consumption during the current billing period, whichever is lower.

Fairfax City Council adopted the winter quarter limit for city wastewater fees in February 2022 to minimize charges for water consumption that does not discharge to the wastewater system (i.e., irrigation and filling pools).

Commercial accounts are not included because these accounts have a master meter that can be supplemented by a sub-meter to measure flow that does not enter the wastewater system.

CONNECTING THE JUDICIAL DRIVE TRAIL

A project is underway to construct a missing segment in the Judicial Drive Trail, which follows a wooded stream valley from Hallman Street to Judicial Drive. Currently, the trail ends abruptly at Presbyterian Way and picks up again on the eastern side of Fairfax Presbyterian Church's property.

The city is constructing 500 feet of paved, accessible trail along the northern edge of the church property. The route follows a sanitary sewer easement, and the project includes the installation of a 70-foot bridge. Ten trees were removed in the easement where trees are not allowed to grow due to the potential of roots negatively impacting the underground pipes. Shrubs will be planted as part of the site restoration and beautification plan. The trail is anticipated to be completed this winter.

The completed project will allow residents to enjoy the entire trail and, eventually, connect to planned bike lanes on Judicial Drive. Residents who live in Warren Woods-Joyce Heights southwest of the Fairfax County Judicial Complex will have access to the full Judicial Drive Trail via the Lamarre Drive Trail, which now connects only to the

“ A Divine Adventure will take the audience on a journey through the spectacular and the divine, as we celebrate autumn and the chills and thrills that accompany the season! While there are certainly ghosts and ghouls to be found in this program, the spotlight is on themes I think of when considering autumn: transition, beauty, scares, and joy.

We will feature music from the smash Broadway musical Wicked, and John Williams' incredible score to E.T. In addition, we will perform Robert W. Smith's The Divine Comedy, where the audience will join Dante on his journey from the depths of Inferno through the gates of Paradise. There is, without a doubt, something for everyone on this program, and we hope to see you there!

— Dr. Scott Describing the Oct. 26 Concert Program ”

Scott conducts the Cathedral Brass, and he served as the McLean Symphony's interim music director. He has conducted the Rockville Brass Band and the Cherry Blossom Brass Band and leads five bands at the Flint Hill School in Oakton.

Scott has been the principal cornet and soloist for the Rockville Brass Band, and he is featured on the Brass of the Potomac's album Firestorm. He has arranged and composed more than 70 titles, and his work has been performed nationally and internationally.

Scott earned his bachelor's degree at Duquesne University and completed his master's and doctorate degrees at West Virginia University.

City of Fairfax Band performances are slated for Dec. 21 and March 15, 2025, with an additional concert planned for late April or early May. Purchase tickets at fairfaxband.org.

eastern section of the Judicial Drive Trail. Residents and staff at the Fairfax Nursing Center will be able to access the trail via a short spur.

This trail project was included in the city's FY 2018-19 Two-Year Transportation Program and City Council unanimously endorsed the funding application in October 2017. Eighty percent of the project is paid for through the Transportation Alternatives Program, which provides funding for the construction of on-road and off-road facilities for pedestrians, bicyclists, and other non-motorized users. The total project cost is $488,520.

HELPING HANDS

Mitchell Cho, chair, Economic Development Authority

Mitchell Cho is serving his first term as EDA chair, after joining the authority in 2023. He lived in the city for seven years and launched his business in the city in 2010.

My roots in NOVA and Fairfax run deep. I attended Lake Braddock Secondary School and George Mason University. I lived in Fairfax City for seven years, and in 2010 I launched my business, FedWriters, Inc, in the city.

My story is a model for city entrepreneurship. In 2010, I came across the Mason Enterprise Center and PTAP (now APEX Accelerators program), and I took nearly every class they offered. That year, I launched FedWriters as a one-person company — and grew it to 300+ employees supporting about six dozen federal agencies.

The EDA promotes city businesses and works toward the city's economic prosperity, primarily through business attraction and retention, using marketing and public-private partnerships, and advocating for business-friendly policies.

It's challenging to compete for new businesses with larger jurisdictions, but the EDA and Fairfax City Economic Development "know who we are," implementing programs that provide lease incentives for business tenants and grants for façade and interior improvements. We hold ribbon cuttings for new businesses and celebrate Restaurant Week. We grow partnerships with organizations within Mason, including the Mason Enterprise Center.

Our city is in a prosperous part of the country, with a highly educated population, and it's important to help guide businesses on the path to success.
